

ATTENTION: DRY CLEANING OPERATIONS USING PERCHLOROETHYLENE (PERC)

SUBJECT: FACILITIES SUBJECT TO JULY 1, 2010,
PHASE-OUT OF PERCHLOROETHYLENE
DRY CLEANING MACHINES

By July 1, 2010, the following dry cleaning facilities with Perchloroethylene (PERC) solvent machines must either replace the equipment or cease operating and must remove the PERC equipment from service:

- Operations with PERC solvent machines manufactured prior to July 1, 1995 or with an unknown manufacture date.

Any of these dry cleaner operations that fail to cease operating their PERC machines by July 1, 2010, are in violation of the California Air Resources Board's Air Toxic Control Measure for Emissions of Perchloroethylene from Dry Cleaning Operations (California Code of Regulations, Section 93109, Title 17).

The Air Pollution Control District (APCD) will take enforcement action on those dry cleaners not in compliance by the deadline and they will be issued a Notice of Violation; however, some non-complying dry cleaners will be allowed to operate up to July 1, 2011, while working toward compliance provided the following actions are taken:

The owner/operator must contact the APCD's Compliance Division representative and enter into a Compliance Agreement to comply with these requirements.

OVER

The Compliance Agreement is a legally binding contract and will include the following elements:

- A commitment to purchase compliant dry cleaning machines;
- An extended deadline to complete the phase-out of the PERC machine; and
- Penalties for being in violation - eligible non-complying Dry Cleaners will pay an escalating penalty schedule of $250 for the first quarter, $500 for the second quarter, $750 for the third quarter, and $1,000 for the fourth quarter. The penalty for the maximum one year compliance extension is $2,500.

Failure to meet the extended deadlines, or to comply with the Compliance Schedule, can result in higher penalties.

Note: The District reserves the right to change or modify these enforcement procedures at any time, without prior notification.

- A commitment to purchase compliant dry cleaning machines;
- An extended deadline to complete the phase-out of the PERC machine; and
- Penalties for being in violation - eligible non-complying Dry Cleaners will pay an escalating penalty schedule of $250 for the first quarter, $500 for the second quarter, $750 for the third quarter, and $1,000 for the fourth quarter. The penalty for the maximum one year compliance extension is $2,500.

Failure to meet the extended deadlines, or to comply with the Compliance Schedule, can result in higher penalties.

Note: The District reserves the right to change or modify these enforcement procedures at any time, without prior notification.

ATTENTION: DRY CLEANING OPERATIONS USING
PERCHLOROETHYLENE (PERC)

SUBJECT: FACILITIES SUBJECT TO JULY 1, 2010,
PHASE-OUT OF PERCHLOROETHYLENE
DRY CLEANING MACHINES

By July 1, 2010, the following dry cleaning facilities with Perchloroethylene (PERC) solvent machines must either replace the equipment or cease operating and must remove the PERC equipment from service:

- Operations with PERC solvent machines manufactured prior to July 1, 1995 or with an unknown manufacture date.

Any of these dry cleaner operations that fail to cease operating their PERC machines by July 1, 2010, are in violation of the California Air Resources Board's Air Toxic Control Measure for Emissions of Perchloroethylene from Dry Cleaning Operations (California Code of Regulations, Section 93109, Title 17).

The Air Pollution Control District (APCD) will take enforcement action on those dry cleaners not in compliance by the deadline and they will be issued a Notice of Violation; however, some non-complying dry cleaners will be allowed to operate up to July 1, 2011, while working toward compliance provided the following actions are taken:

The owner/operator must contact the APCD's Compliance Division representative and enter into a Compliance Agreement to comply with these requirements.
